The tutorial will summarise the general structure of the Horizon Europe Research and Innovation Funding Programme [1], with an accent on the Excellent Science Pillar.

The Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions [2] and the European Research Council programme [3] will be introduced in more detail, as they offer career advancements and network enlargement to young researchers.

In the third part of the talk, the Euraxess portal [3] as well as a series of running projects offering training, access and networking opportunities will be presented.

The tutorial will also be followed by a 1-to-1 session for the students to present specific interests and questions.
